Chapter 2

Edward picked up a journal he hadn't touched in decades and started to write

It has been 2 years since everything fell apart since the only woman I truly ever loved betrayed me and ran off with my adopted brother after killing 10 people and then (Edward stopped for a second) the only father I ever had . Jasper had found a hiker in the nearby mountainside he had fallen and was injured the blood was too much for him to handle and he killed the hiker he was never as strong as the rest of us he was always tempted but she was so strong I still don't understand why she did it Bella my wife found him and she joined in they went on a killing spree there was a camp site not too far from the hiker and they slaughtered them and my time Carlisle got there it was too late he tried to get them to go with him they need to leave forks before the wolves found out what happened but they didn't listen they wanted more they cornered him and ripped him apart piece by piece we had arrived the moment they tossed his head in to the fire .Esme let out a scream and fell to the floor my eyes couldn't leave the horrified scene my wife and brother just murdered the man who took them in and showed them away of life and only had treated them with kindness and like his own children Alice and I just stood there unable to move Bella and Jasper just gave us an evil grin and ran from us as fast as they could Alice nor I could move an inch Emmett and Rose ran after them while I did nothing we all took a hard hit after especially our daughter Renesmee she thinks part of it is my fault and hardly talks to me anymore she spends most of her time with Jacob and it breaks my heart that my own daughter can't stand the sight of me but I hope she comes around one day to see I'm not a bad guy ..right?

Edward shut the book and went to his kitchen that was in the little house his family made him and Bella he had recently found love for human food especially toast for 2 reasons it taste amazing and he can't get fat he put the bread in the toaster and turned on his television then he heard his pixie sister Alice yell his name from out side

"Edward"-Alice

Edward retrieved his toast and went outside

" what do you want Alice"-Edward yelled with toast hanging out of his mouth

Alice laughs and pointed at the piece of toast "what is that "

"It is toast what about it"-Edward

" yeah but why are you eating it "-Alice

" because it taste good"-Edward

"What ever let's go hunting"-Alice with a big smile

Edward takes a bite of toast " no"

"Why not"-Alice

" I'm busy "-Edward

" no your just mopping around in your underwear eating toast and watching TV "-Alice crossing her arms

" pretty much "-Edward

" come on Edward please"-Alice

"Fine on one condition"-Edward

" what "-Alice unsure

Edward holds out a piece of toast " take a bite"

"Fine" Alice walking to him and taking a bite

"Do you like it ? "-Edward

" it is yummy "-Alice with a twinkle in her eye and eating the rest

" hey that was mine"-Edward

"Well you kinda gave it to me" -Alice chuckles

"Whatever let's go "-Edward

The two left in to the woods over an hour later they got separated

" Alice "Edward yelled he could hear the thunder in the distance he could tell a storm was coming it reminded him of the times they would play baseball in the thunder storms he shook his head and climbed a tree to get a birds eye view he fell half way up and hit the ground with a hard thud he stood up and dusted him self off and took in his surroundings this wasn't the forest of forks this place looked like it was in the middle of autumn it was bright Edward made his way out of the forest he didn't recognize it at all he stayed in the shade when he saw two men walking towards him

" Cedric what are you doing why did you change your clothes"-Amos
